It's no secret; neighborhoods that uphold high standards and keep common area grounds well maintained compete more favorably in the resale market than those who do not. Protecting our investment reaches beyond individual property borders. We believe that improvements, funded by the Park Plaza South Homeowner's Association, have had an impact.

Thus far the Park Plaza South Homeowner's association has installed irrigation systems, professionally landscaped and installed new signs at both primary entrances. We have sponsored annual events, provided a forum for educating and informing residents and have begun the neighborhood alert program, with the production of our yearly neighborhood directory and our Block Captain program. But that's just the beginning.

The time has come for all Homeowner's to join our cause. We are stronger together than we are individually, especially when it comes to challenging the city to patch streets or respond to code violations. All of our officers and committee people are unpaid volunteers working, on their own time, to better our community. Collection of membership dues is our primary source of income, and you get a free neighborhood directory with your membership!
